New School Addition Viewed

Minister of Education Officiates at Opening

Preceding the official opening of the new addition to the Vulcan School on Saturday, Nov. 25, the annual meeting of Subdivision 6 of the Foothills School Division was held in the auditorium. Charles Fulton, local trustee, acted as chairman, and those present included Hon. Ivan Casey, Minister of Education; T. C. Weidenhamer, chairman of the Foothills school board; C. M. Lavery, school superintendent for the Foothills Division, and John Donald, secretary.

Mr. Donald presented the financial report, after which Mr. Lavery gave the annual report, showing there is little difference in the actual schools giving service in the Foothills Division, this year, with the exception that Okotoks has joined the Unit and Red Cross has dropped out of the list of one-room schools being operated. However, three new shops have been opened this year, namely at Mossleigh, Okotoks and Blackie, and six new rooms for the teaching of Home Economics. These last cover the points already mentioned, with the addition of Vulcan, Brant and Cayley.

Following the business session the official opening of the school addition took place. Mr. Einar Kumlin, as principal of the Vulcan Schools, welcomed the officials and guests, and spoke of the splendid new addition. He remarked that a building alone did not make a school, that the co-operation of the students, teachers and parents were all necessary for the ultimate achievement.

T. C. Weidenhamer, chairman of the Foothills School Board, congratulated Mr. Kumlin on being principal of such a fine school.

Mr. Lavery spoke of the added facilities that the new addition would provide. He expressed himself as highly pleased that the addition had been completed so soon.

The advancement of educational facilities in the province was stressed by Mr. Casey. He stated that more than 400 new class rooms had been opened this year, and that the interest-free loans received from the government were largely responsible for this accomplishment. He then declared the new addition officially open.

The public attendance at this function was very disappointing.

The fine new brick addition consists of four class rooms, the principal's office, and a teachers' room on the main floor. Each room is painted a different color. There is ample cupboard room provided under the windows and at the back of each room. All woodwork has been blonded and the floors are covered with linoleum.

The basement consists of two large rooms, boys and girls' washrooms, the janitor's room and library. The very modern laboratory is equipped with sinks and much fine technical equipment, and will fill a long-felt need in the Vulcan schools. The other large room is the assembly hall, which has a hardwood floor, and it too has long been needed here. The library is a cozy little blue room finished with grey and blue tiled flooring. Lighting throughout is fluorescent. Boards are green and the back steps, which are not yet completed, lead to the outside. All doors are equipped with panic locks.

The Weather

Mild weather prevailed early this week but a heavy snowfall Wednesday was accompanied by lowered temperatures.

Skating and curling activities will be under way in a few days.

Seal Receipts Now at $911.00

Christmas Seal receipts for Vulcan and district as at Wednesday of this week total $911. It was announced today by Wm. Shields, chairman of the Lions Club Christmas Seal committee. The objective is $2,600.

Mr. Shields said, "We are encouraged by the response so far, which is a little better than at the same period last year. However, we have a long way to go yet, and we urge everyone who has not yet sent in a contribution to do so at once, so that we may have our objective by Christmas."

Christmas Seal funds raised in Alberta are spent in Alberta, except for 10 per cent which goes to the National office for Seal sales supplies, educational material and national administration. They help to provide free chest X-rays through the Christmas Seal mobile units, X-ray equipment for hospitals to give routine chest X-rays to all admissions, rehabilitation of ex-patients and a wide-spread educational program.

Provincial Christmas Seal receipts are reported by C. Robert Dickey, general secretary of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, as being $39,000 toward the provincial objective of $170,000. This compares with $37,500 at the same time last year.

John Hunter Heads Scout Association

The Foothills District Council of the Scout Association, held their annual meeting, Monday, Nov. 20, at High River. John Hunter was re-elected president of the Council, while J. Newby of Turner Valley was elected vice-president, and E. Auld, Brant, second vice-president. A. H. Collier, Vulcan, was named secretary treasurer. Jack Rhodes, Brant, was nominated to represent this council on the Alberta Provincial Executive. James Scott, Calgary, assistant commissioner and F. Fry, provincial executive, attended the meeting and gave a "Plan Achievement" advocating canvassing the public to raise funds for spreading the Scout work.

Various groups attending this meeting represented Turner Valley, Longview, Brant, Ensign, High River and Vulcan. Lunch was served by ladies of the Association.

Last year Canadians spent $600 per capita in retail stores, twice as much as in 1941.

Lions Turkey Shoot All Set

Bingo Promises To Be One Of Most Popular Attractions

With the pick of the turkey crop coming in each day, cases of hams being unpacked and plenty of ammunition on hand, the Lions Club is all set to provide two days of fun and entertainment on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2, when the third annual turkey shoot will be held in the Vulcan Armouries.

Although the rifle and shotgun fans are going to have a bang-up time, much interest is being centred on turkey bingo and pitch and it appears quite likely that there will be as many winners here as with the firearms.

No effort has been spared to provide entertainment for all groups and ages. Dances both nights are expected to attract capacity crowds and many entries have already been received for the square dance competition to be held at 10 p.m. on Saturday. The winners will take home worthwhile prizes.

Meet your friends at the Lions Club turkey shoot and dances in Vulcan this weekend. It's a wonderful opportunity to have a lot of fun, win your Christmas dinner and help a good community effort.

Foreign Affairs Heads of USSR, USA Meet

Town and Country Co-operate

2100 Yards of Gravel Improve Town Streets

The spirit of co-operation so essential for the success of community projects is in a healthy state in Vulcan and district. This was proved last week when money, farm and commercial trucks and labor were donated to an extent that allowed the Board of Trade sponsored graveling bee to be successfully completed despite inclement weather conditions.

2100 yards of gravel were hauled and approximately three miles of town streets were gravelled, with some streets requiring three to five times as much gravel as a standard road. The crushed gravel was made available by the Municipal District of Vulcan at the nominal price of 25 cents a yard, at a gravel pit located about ten miles south of town.

Response to the scheme was beyond expectations—original plans calling for the hauling of 1200 yards of gravel—and, as a result, a greater number of streets were gravelled. Laying of the gravel has done much to improve the condition of the main streets in town.

J. M. Jamison and Lundy Findlay formed the committee arranging for the trucks and donations from the business places in town were collected by Roy Walker, Stan Scales, Keith Elder and W. D. Allan. President Ross Walker of the Board of Trade wishes to extend sincere thanks to all who assisted in any way and to the ladies who braved the wintry weather to serve coffee to the unloading crews.

In the near future the Board of Trade hopes to tender a banquet and entertainment to all who took part in the graveling bee, as a gesture of appreciation.

Protecting Grain Stored on Farm

(By H. C. L. Strange)
Dr. H. E. Gray of Ottawa, and Dr. B. N. Smallman of Winnipeg, both of the Stored Products Insect Laboratories, have together issued a bulletin that describes how farmers can best protect any grain they may have to store on their farms. This storage, say the authors, may be necessary in areas where there are high yields and low delivery quotas.

This most excellent bulletin describes the method of testing grain in bins to determine if it is going out of condition and then what to do to prevent further damage. Farmers having to store grain on their farms would be well advised to obtain a copy of this bulletin. Copies may be obtained by writing to the Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa; or copies may be obtained from Elevator Agents at country points.

Cluny-Bow Valley School Students Receive Awards

Friday afternoon, the students of the Bow Valley Central High School of Cluny gathered with their parents and friends for the third year in succession in the Cluny Community Hall to honor students of their school when the Governor General's Medal was presented to Jack Robert Sikke, for highest honors in grade nine of the Bow Valley School Division. A medal was also presented to Melvin Prowse by the Bow Valley Home and School Association for standing second this year in the Bow Valley and E.L.D. School Divisions.

The winners on two previous occasions were Kenneth Gordon and Elsie Jones.

The presentation was preceded by a program which featured musical selections, a Puppet show by the art class and a panel discussion by the grade twelve social studies class.

Among the speakers were Mrs. S. Williams, president of the Cluny-Bow Valley Home and School Association who likened the inspiration which had brought the medal three years to Cluny as a torch. She asked who would catch it this year and again bring honors to their school.

H. T. Colpoys brought the congratulations of the board of trustees of the Bow Valley School division of which he is chairman.

F. Betton, principal of the school spoke of the various factors which contribute to the winning of honors and said the home, the school, the teachers and the personal qualities of the students themselves were all important. George Bell, M.L.A. spoke of the fine and enviable reputation held by the high school at Cluny and congratulated the students and staff for making the school the fine institution it was.

Rev. Sinclair of Bassano, spoke on qualities of champions and gave some very good advice to the recipients of the medals and the student body. He pointed out how much champions were indebted to good coaches.

Kenneth Gordon expressed the appreciation of the student body to the teachers and especially to Mrs. A. E. Derrick, who has taught grade nine for the past three years. Elsie Jones presented Mrs. Derrick with a bouquet of roses on behalf of the student body. Mrs. Derrick received an ovation which lasted several minutes.

O. P. Larson, Superintendent of schools, presented the medals on behalf of the minister of education and the Home and School Association and heartily congratulated the recipients. He also spoke of the fine reputation the Bow Valley Central High school was gaining for its splendid past record of the past few years and congratulated the parents, teachers, and students for maintaining its reputation. Lunch was served afterwards.

If you will buy, fewer will die—buy and use Christmas Seals.

Ratepayers Vote Against Granting Propane Franchise

A light vote was recorded when Vulcan ratepayers went to the polls last Friday to decide whether or not the Mid-Way Propane Co. of Lethbridge would be granted a ten-year franchise to supply Vulcan consumers with propane gas by means of an underground distribution system.

The proposition was turned down by the ratepayers, with 67 voting in favor of the bylaw and 63 against. A two-thirds majority was required for approval.

J. L. Findlay was returning officer.

Girl Guides and Brownies Enrolled

On Monday, Nov. 27, the 1st. Vulcan Girl Guide Company was paid an official visit by Miss Beth Riddick, Provincial Secretary, and Mrs. D. F. Blake, Division Commissioner. A banquet supper was served by the local Association of Guide Mothers to some 75 visitors, girls and mothers.

Regular meetings of the Brownies and Guides were held during the evening, with Brown Owl Mrs. Nita Groves conducting the Brownie meeting, during which Corrine Walker, Nora Chell and Sharon Houlton were enrolled as Brownies by Miss Riddick. Each girl was presented with a Brownie pin and is now entitled to wear Brownie uniform.

Mrs. Edna O'Connell, local captain, and Mrs. Nelsie Robertson, lieutenant, were in charge of the Girl Guide meeting. The High River color party brought in the flags and Patrol Leader Dode Leech presented the local Guides to Miss Riddick for enrollment. Those enrolled were Sharon Buehler, Helen Hunter, Eileen Rutherg and Mrs. O'Connell.

Miss Riddick and Mrs. Blake later met with the local Association of Guide Mothers for an interesting and informative discussion.

150 at Banquet, Program and Dance

Lions Club Celebrates Fifth Anniversary Charter Night

Some 150 Lions and their wives and friends attended the 5th annual charter anniversary night of the Vulcan Club, Wednesday, Nov. 22nd, in the L.O.O.F. hall, when a delicious turkey dinner was served by the ladies of Kirkcaldy W.I.

Following dinner a short singing period was enjoyed, led by Lion B.I. Shields and with Mrs. K. Elder as accompanist.

Heber Merrill of Lethbridge, District Governor, as guest of honor addressed the gathering briefly, sketching the progress, aims and work of Lionism, throughout the world. Mr. Merrill proved himself a most interesting speaker, being well informed, witty and concise in his remarks.

Vulcan people have come to expect something special in the way of entertainment at all Lion social events, and they were not disappointed on this occasion. As always, the committee had a treat in store. The first number, an operatic farce, in which Lions C. J. Robinson, Phil Lucas, Albert Collier and Charlie Fulton, in appropriate costumes, participated, ably supported by recordings of the Quartet from Rigoletto, proved the thespian abilities of the participants and their vocal efforts "brought down the house."

The second number, a somewhat one-sided quiz contest, was performed by Lions Chauncey Layman, Charlie Fulton, Boyd McKay and Earl Erickson, assisted by Mrs. Charlie Andrews, and caused much merriment.

At this time M. McIntyre gave a very interesting resume of the activities of the Vulcan and District Memorial Swimming Pool, pointing out that at the opening of the pool there were only 14 swimmers in the high school and public schools. This season there were 128 children who received instructions for swimming at Vulcan.

The second year the pool was in operation—W. Risson-Bennett of the Canadian Red Cross and Water Safety Program, conducted instructors classes, with three local boys being successful. These boys attended the course at Edmonton.

Say, "Merry Christmas" with Christmas Seals.

Opposition Voiced At Meeting

Ask That Formation of Vulcan County Be Delayed

Strong opposition to the formation of the proposed Vulcan County was voiced at a meeting held in the L.O.O.F. hall, Vulcan, on Tuesday, when representatives of the municipalities and school divisions affected met with J. W. Judge, deputy minister of education.

The meeting was called to establish the boundaries of the proposed new county, the formation of which was asked by the council of the Municipal District of Vulcan under the provisions of the County Act passed last April by the provincial government, but refused in the passing of a resolution asking that, if sufficient opposition to the scheme develops, the setting up of the Vulcan County be delayed for at least a year.

The proposed boundaries of the county were given by D. D. McQueen, secretary of the M.D. of Vulcan, touching off a storm of controversy and objections that resulted in postponement of the original objective of the meeting and the intimation by the government officials present that another consultation with the minister of municipal affairs would be held before further action is taken in setting up the Vulcan County.

Boundaries of the proposed county are, roughly, west of the Little Bow, east to one mile east of Lomond, north to the Bow River and south to six miles south of Carmangay. It was explained that this would provide an area large enough to give a workable assessment and revenue for county purposes and for the schools and hospitals within the boundaries, and including that area of which Vulcan is the natural center. The Little Bow hospital district would be included, it was stated.

Particularly strong opposition came from the five school divisions which would be affected by the formation of such a county.

Hold Big Bonspiel January 15 to 20

Plans are now underway for the holding of Vulcan's third annual open bonspiel, January 15th to 20th, and the curling club hopes to make it the best ever.

There will be five events, including a consolation event, and all competitions will be supported by the usual good prizes. Details of the prize list will be given soon.

Six sheets of ice in an insulated building will be available and a good entry list of curlers from many parts of the province is expected.

those of Taber, Macleod, Foothills, Lethbridge and Bow Valley. The main objections voiced by representatives of these divisions were that the divisions were now of proper size and operating satisfactorily and that inclusion of part of each division would reduce area and revenue to such an extent that satisfactory operation would be jeopardized.

Barons and Argyle municipal districts, which would lose some of their area to the proposed county, were concerned about how it would affect them if counties were eventually formed in their areas. Opposition to the resulting reductions in their assessment and revenue were also voiced.

The proposed county would go away entirely with the Blackie municipality, with that part not going into the Vulcan county being absorbed by Highwood M.D. Blackie councilors were strong in their objections.

The general tone of the meeting was that opposition in the area to be included in the proposed county should be given the opportunity of voting on the scheme before it is put into effect, rather than four years after it has been in operation.

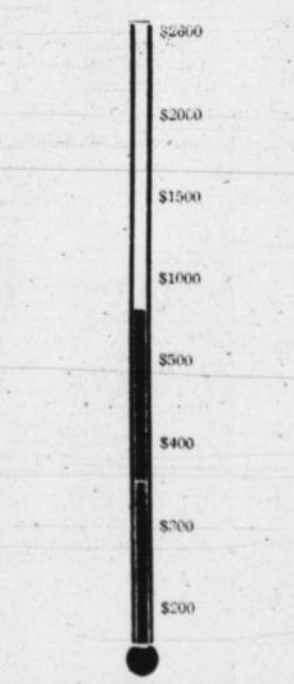

The following resolution was passed by the meeting:

"That if sufficient opposition to the setting up of the proposed Vulcan County develops in all areas whose territory is affected by the proposed County, as shown by mass meetings, etc., the Lieutenant-Governor in Council be asked to not proceed with the institution of this County for the period of at least one year."

J. Rhodes of Vulcan was chairman of the meeting and R. Madill of Barons acted as secretary.

The goal of eradication of tuberculosis in this country is no mirage. It can be done with relentless effort. Christmas Seal funds are the sole support of the anti-tuberculosis campaign of the Alberta T.B. Associations.

Vulcan County

(Editorial in the Lethbridge Herald)

Last session the Alberta Legislature spread upon the Statutes of Alberta an Act providing for an experiment in rural municipal government in the Province—four experimental counties designed to try out the county system to learn whether it can bring about a streamlining of what has become a hodge-podge of tax-spending bodies throughout the country-side.

Remembering that Alberta was not set up as a Province until 1905, and that, at the time, it had only 75,000 population, it is not surprising that, in trying to keep up with the growing needs of the rural, village and small town populace, we have come up with a surprising number of different kinds of municipal government, school districts, hospital districts and the like. It was just a case of meeting the need of the district and of the day. We have a number of enlarged rural municipal districts today, which are an amalgamation of a group of the original municipal districts formed under the original rural municipality measure. We still have a lot of the nine-township rural municipalities, a relatively small organization. In the early days of school districts were set up largely of part townships so that no child had to travel more than two or three miles to school. Some of these remain, but in the meantime the present Alberta Government has brought along the large school units with central administration. Then we have hospitals and health districts, large and small. With, of course, unorganized areas thrown in for good measure.

And the boundaries of none of these seem to jibe. The rural municipality is the only rural taxing authority. It must impose and collect taxes for itself, the school units and the hospital units where they have been set up. A municipality may be collecting taxes at varying rates for three or four or more school units whose boundaries lap the municipality's. It may be collecting for more than one hospital unit. The school and hospital boards get their money by making a demand on the municipal authority for the full amount of the money they need—the municipality must find a way of getting the taxes from the property owners who are the only tax base the municipalities have.

The whole thing has reached a chaotic stage. The Legislature at the last session made a start in an effort to better matters by planning for a county system—a series of quite large rural municipalities which would, we take it, include all but the towns which have their own councils, and these, too, would be included in certain cases.

The only objection we have to the plan is that the Legislature put it on a take-it-or-leave-it basis. A good many people think that counties should be set up only with the assent of the taxpayers within the proposed county boundaries. They don't like the idea of the Legislature shoving the plan down the throats of the people.

However, we think that to avoid the chaotic tax situation which has arisen in the farming areas, it would be a good thing to try out the county plan experimentally. And that is what the Vulcan area is planning to do—if the various tax-spending bodies can bring themselves to agree. We would like to see the scheme tried out. The county system seems to meet the needs of the present day, what with municipal, school, hospital, health and other requirements that need to be met. We can't see that it can be any worse than we have now even though the Alberta Teachers' Alliance doesn't seem to like the idea of the taxpayers having a little more to say about how school moneys are being spent.

Canadians own more than two million motor vehicles of all kinds, according to this year's vehicle registrations.
